COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course explores physical, cognitive and socioemotional development from infancy to adolescence. Major theoretical frameworks, research methods, findings, issues and applications in the field will be discussed.

COURSE TEXTBOOK

Shaffer, D. R., Kipp, K., Wood, E., & Willoughby, T. (2013). Developmental Psychology: Childhood and Adolescence (4th Canadian Edition). Toronto: Nelson Education Ltd.

COURSE COMPONENTS

Test 1: 30% (October 10, 2014)

Test 2: 30% (November 14, 2014)

Final exam: 40% (Note: Students must be available during the official exam period to write the final exam)

❖ Tests and Final Exam

The tests and final exam will consist of 60 multiple choice questions and 8 short answer questions. The tests and final exam will be noncumulative and cover material from the lecture slides, assigned readings and class discussions.

MISSED TESTS AND FINAL EXAMS

Make-up tests and exams will be allowed with appropriate documentation. Students who miss the tests or final exam must contact their assigned T.A. by email within 48 hours of the original test or exam. If you cannot contact the T.A. during this 48-hour period, subsequent documentation accounting for the delay must be provided. Tests/exams missed due to medical circumstances must be supported by an attending physician's statement or a statement by a psychologist or counselor. The physician's statement must include the following:

- i. full name, mailing address, telephone number of the physician,
- ii. state the nature of the illness and its duration (i.e., specific dates covered), and
- iii. an indication of whether the illness and/or medication prescribed would have SERIOUSLY affected the student's ability to study and perform over the period in question.

NOTE: the physician's office may be contacted to verify that the forms were completed by the physician.

Tests/exams missed due to non-medical circumstances must be supported by appropriate documentation, i.e., death certificates, obituary notice, automobile accident reports, airline/bus ticket/receipt for emergency travel (with date of booking on ticket), etc. Airline/train/bus ticket/receipts for emergency travel must indicate destination, departure, and return dates. Having to work at the time of a test is not considered a valid excuse for missing the test.

A conflict with another course during the time of the make-up is not an acceptable reason for missing the make-up (unless there is an examination in the other course at that time for which you will be required to provide proof). You should be aware that if you miss the make-up tests as scheduled, you may not have the requisite 15% feedback on your course work to determine whether or not you need to drop the course. Therefore, it is in your best interest to write the tests as scheduled by the course director.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Only extremely unusual circumstances would warrant a second chance at a make-up. Permission from the course director is required before a second make-up can be scheduled. If you are granted a second chance at a make-up test and do not write the test, there will be absolutely no further opportunity to write the test. The same rules apply for the final exam.

The University does not look favorably on cheating of any kind and the penalties for doing so are very harsh. Become familiar with the rules and regulations regarding cheating/plagiarism. You can find them listed on pages 6 – 7 of the Undergraduate Psychology Supplemental Calendar.

COURSE COMMUNICATION

Please use your York email address when communicating with the course director and T.A.s as messages from other addresses may not always be received and it is your responsibility to ensure that we receive your messages. For example, if you email the T.A. that you missed a test/exam and she does not receive your message, you will not receive information about the make-up test. If you miss the make-up test for this reason, you will not receive another chance to write the make-up test. Please follow appropriate email etiquette (indicate the course number and section in the subject field, include a formal greeting and sign with your full name).
