Course Description
The goal of this course is to get you to think about the deep and meaningful ways in which culture shapes who we are, how we think, and what we do. We will do this by addressing theory, research, and methods pertaining to culture and psychology. The potential role of culture is examined across a range of psychological areas including perception, cognition, emotion, developmental processes, as well as personality and social and abnormal behaviour.

In addition to content, weekly lectures may include a research demonstration, some video clips, and class discussion. Each lecture is related in part to an assigned chapter from the textbook as well as an additional journal article. Lectures are designed to stimulate your interest in cultural psychology and to highlight and clarify some of the content that is related to the weekly topic. Not all of the information presented in the text will be covered in class. Moreover, some lecture information will not be found in the textbook. You are responsible for covering the text and the additional readings in their entirety. It would be a good idea to borrow notes from a classmate if you must miss a class, as all information presented in class (e.g., videos, research demonstrations) may lead to questions appearing on exams.
Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate in-depth knowledge in cultural psychology.
2. Articulate trends in cultural psychology.
3. Express knowledge of cultural psychology in written form.
4. Describe and explain limits to generalizability of research findings on cultural psychology.
5. Demonstrate ability to relate information in cultural psychology to own and others' life experiences.

Specific Learning Objectives

1. Learn how to critically evaluate psychological research.

Grading as per Senate Policy

The grading scheme for the course conforms to the 9-point grading system used in undergraduate programs at York (e.g., A+ = 9, A = 8, B+ - 7, C+ = 5, etc.). Assignments and tests* will bear either a letter grade designation or a corresponding number grade (e.g. A+ = 90 to 100, A = 80 to 90, B+ = 75 to 79, etc.)

(For a full description of York grading system see the York University Undergraduate Calendar - http://calendars.students.yorku.ca/2016-2017/academic-and-financial-information/academic-services/grades-and-grading-schemes)
Late Work/Missed Tests or Exams

Assignments:

-Paper topic: Late work will be marked down 5% for each day (including weekdays and weekends) for a period of 5 days after which the assignment will no longer be accepted.

-Final Paper: Late work will be marked down 5% for each day (including weekdays and weekends) for a period of 9 days after which the assignment will no longer be accepted.

Tests:

Students with a documented reason for missing a course test, such as illness, compassionate grounds, etc., which is confirmed by supporting documentation (Attending Physician Statement which can be found at: http://registrar.yorku.ca/pdf/attending-physicians-statement.pdf) may request accommodation from the Course Instructor. Students must notify the instructor AND the TA within 48 hours and submit the ORIGINAL APS form within 48 hours of the missed exam. Further extensions or accommodation will require students to submit a formal petition to the Faculty.

If you miss an exam, please contact the instructor and your TA within 48 hours of the missed exam. In this email, please (a) indicate your full name, student number and contact number, (b) outline the reason for your absence, and (c) confirm that you have medical or other relevant documentation to support this reason.

The supporting documentation should be brought to Dr. Hyunji Kim's mailbox, BSB 101, (located on the first floor of the BSB; if the mail room is closed try the undergraduate office) or faxed to the psychology department (with "Attention to Dr. Hyunji Kim") at 416-736-5814. You will need to receive confirmation of the make-up examination date from the instructor and/or your TA; you should be back in touch within 24 hours if you have not heard back. Failure to provide appropriate documentation will result in a grade of 0.

Please note that I am extremely strict about the conditions that will allow you to write a make-up examination. Nonetheless, you should contact me regardless of your reason if you have missed or will miss an examination.

Please note that there will be one set date for the make-up examination. If you are unable to make this date, no other arrangements will be made. Typically makeup exams take place within 7-14 days of the missed exam. The nature of the makeup exam will be at my discretion. It is your responsibility to check with the TA about the date/time of the make-up. A conflict with another course during the time of the make-up is not an acceptable reason for missing a make-up, unless the conflict involves another exam. There will be NO second opportunity for a make-up.

No individualized testing is available unless arranged formally through one of the offices at the University (e.g., Counselling and Disability Services; http://www.yorku.ca/cds/lts/learningdisabilities/exams.html).
If you are ill or facing extreme personal circumstances and/or are unable to get the required documentation, I highly recommend that you consider dropping the course.
