COURSE DESCRIPTION
The objective of this course is to provide students with an introduction to the foundational skills and techniques used in counseling and psychotherapy. Classes will be comprised of lectures, group discussions, role-playing, demonstration videos, and reflection exercises to help stimulate learning of therapy skills. Students are encouraged to come prepared to discuss and reflect upon the course content, and engage in role-playing and experiential exercises. Students will have the opportunity to experience how it feels to be on both the providing and receiving ends of therapeutic encounters without working with real clients. A large portion of student evaluation is placed on participation. While self-disclosure is not a requirement of the course, some students may reveal personal information during class discussions or role-plays. It is expected that regardless of the content of the information shared, students will treat each other with the utmost respect and maintain confidentiality outside of class. Violations of these expectations will not be tolerated.

LEARNING OUTCOMES
Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:
1. Demonstrate in-depth knowledge in skills and techniques in counselling and psychotherapy.
2. Critically evaluate, synthesize and resolve conflicting results in skills and techniques in counselling and psychotherapy.
3. Articulate trends in skills and techniques in counselling and psychotherapy.
4. Locate research articles and show critical thinking about research findings.
5. Express psychological knowledge in written form in more than 1 sub-discipline.
7. Demonstrate an ability to work with others.

DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENTS

Midterm Exam
The midterm exam will consist of multiple choice and short answer questions, and will include materials covered in the assigned readings and lectures up to midterm exam (Weeks 1-5). Further information about the midterm will be provided in class.

Class Presentations
In groups of 3, students will present on a specific psychotherapy techniques. The presentation length will be 30 minutes in length. Groups will present briefly on the theoretical model the technique is drawn from, the rationale for using the technique, steps for implementing the technique in psychotherapy sessions, and then demonstrate or facilitate class practice of the technique. Presentations should be prepared in Powerpoint (or equivalent) format. Groups must provide handouts of the presentation slides for the class. Further guidelines for the presentation will be presented in class.

Reflection Paper
Students will be provided with a series of questions and asked to reflect on different aspects of the course. The purpose of this assignment is to provide students with an opportunity to think about their biases and assumptions, personal preferences, and experiences engaging with the course content. Students will be assessed on the quality and thoughtfulness of their reflections. The term paper should conform to the following format: APA style, 12-point font, double-spaced with one-inch margins. Reflection papers should be a maximum of 10 pages. Reflection papers must be submitted in person at the beginning of class on November 29, 2016. Further guidelines for the paper will be provided in class.

Participation
Student participation will be assessed throughout the course. Students will be evaluated on active involvement in class discussion and experiential exercises, depth and quality of contribution, and preparedness for the lectures/presentations.

GRADING
The grading scheme for the course conforms to the 9-point grading system used in undergraduate programs at York (e.g., A+ = 9, A = 8, B+ = 7, C+ = 5, etc.). Assignments and tests will bear either a letter grade designation or a corresponding number grade (e.g. A+ = 90 to 100, A = 80 to 90, B+ = 75 to 79, etc.). Final course grades may be adjusted to conform to Program or Faculty grades distribution profiles. (For a full description of York grading system see the York University Undergraduate Calendar - http://calendars.students.yorku.ca/2016-2017/academic-and-financial-information/academic-services/grades-and-grading-schemes)
LATE WORK/MISSED EXAMS
Students with a documented reason for missing a course exam, such as illness, compassionate grounds, etc., which is confirmed by supporting documentation (Attending Physician Statement which can be found at: http://registrar.yorku.ca/pdf/attending-physicians-statement.pdf) may request accommodation from the Course Instructor. Students must contact the Course Instructor within 48 hours of the missed deadline/exam. Assignments received later than the due date will be penalized (5% per day that assignment is late). There will only be one opportunity to write the make-up exam. The content covered on the exam will be the same as the original exam, but will not necessarily follow the same format or include the same questions. Further extensions or accommodation will require students to submit a formal petition to the Faculty.
